MASONIC TEMPLE AT SACRAMENTO TO COST $250,000

During the first part of next year the trustees of the Masonic Temple association will advertise for bids for the erection of a Masonic temple in Sacramento which will cost at least $250,000. At a meeting of the trustees to be held during the first week of December, the matter of the construction of the building will be taken up and all preliminary work relative to the receiving of bids will be completed.

At the present time the Masons of Sacramento have two valuable pieces of property, their Masonic temple at Sixth and K streets and a lot 160 by 160 at Twelfth and J streets. The members of the association will decide at their December meeting as to whether the new temple shall be erected at Twelfth and J streets, or the present building at Sixth and J streets be razed and the new structure erected on the site of the temple now used by the Masons. It is also possible that the Masons may sell all of their property and buy a lot in the residence portion of the city upon which to erect a new temple.

In Sacramento there are 800 Masons, each lodge having a representative on the board of trustees of the Masonic Temple association. All of the stock in the Masonic Temple association is held by the various lodges of the city, and there are no incumbrances in the property owned by the Masons.

Through their representative each lodge shall have a voice in saying as to what shall be done regarding the new temple, which will be one of the most magnificent structures in Sacramento. Several prominent Masons have expressed themselves as being in favor of erecting a ten-story building on the property at Sixth and K streets, using several floors for lodge halls and the balance for offices.

Other Masons are in favor of erecting an elegant structure of the Gothic type at Twelfth and J streets.

Wherever the building is erected, it will be a magnificent structure and will be another milestone to the great building activities that Sacramento has enjoyed for the past six years.

JOHN O'NEIL FORGOT TO TURN OFF ELECTRICITY

There were lively doings last evening for a short time at the store of John O'Neil, the boss tailor on C street, when the proprietor retired for the night and forgot to turn off the juice that supplies his electric flatiron. The iron was resting on a block of wood and had burned its way through the block and top of the table, before someone passing noticed the store filled with smoke. Mr. O'Neil was awakened from his slumbers and the fire was extinguished. A short time longer and a smart blaze would have been under way.—Virginia Chronicle

FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE ACCOUNT OF NON-SUPPORT

Bertha E. Carlton has commenced an action for divorce in the Goldfield courts against Frederick W. Carlton, on the ground of non-support. They were married at Tonopah in March, 1908, and the plaintiff alleges that the defendant deserted her at Rawhide two months later and has refused to provide her with the means of support. She asks that she be allowed to resume her maiden name, Bertha E. Garnett.

DEATH RESULT OF FIGHT OVER SHEEP RANGE

After four bullets had plowed their way through his body and a fifth shot had torn off the top of his head, John Champolean gave up his life last Tuesday and S. F. King is now in the county jail charged with murder. The accused man maintains that he shot in self-defense and the shooting started only after Champolean and himself had engaged in a desperate fight for the possession of the gun with which the killing was done. The killing is the result of a bitter fight between the two over the division of the sheep range in the vicinity of Duck creek. No one witnessed the killing, and the only portion of King's story that he cannot explain is why he shot his victim so many times.—Ely Express.

LEASERS NEAR BATTLE MOUNTAIN SHIP ORE

The 4-M leasers have a carload of rich ore sacked ready to ship, and are finishing a wagon road up the river to ship it over. They have been sinking on the vein for the past two weeks and have found more of the rich ore, and it is better ore than any heretofore taken out. The probabilities are that this shipment will run over $1,000 per ton, and when the smelter returns are received for it there should be a greater confidence felt by investors in the mines of this camp.

Several groups of claims in the Snowslide Gulch basin have been bonded by Colorado parties, and the indications are that Snowslide and Third Crater are to be the scenes of considerable activity in the near future. The west vein from the Second Crater has been traced down into Snowslide gulch, and through the High Up and Brook claims. The Winkler, or Scenic vein, has been traced across Gorge gulch, through the Rooster claim, into Snowslide, where it is found on the High Water and Shadow claims.

The tunnel on the Good Luck is in about 30 feet and is all in ore, with spots of high-grade. Theo Parks is superintendent and the tunnel is well equipped with car and track and blacksmith outfit. Mr. Parks, who owns the Jarbidge Wonder No. 1 and No. 2, and the Vinnie, has had them surveyed and is prospecting the surface preparatory to extensive development. A cut on the Jarbidge Wonder No. 1 shows a large vein in place which pans gold.

The latest strike was made recently in the Fifth Crater, about nine miles southeast of the town, between the Jarbidge river and the East Fork. This strike was made by Buys and Franklin, who have opened up a five-foot vein with a streak of quartz on the hanging wall that produces some very handsome specimens of free gold.

Warren W. Williams has a force of men at work on the Red Bird and Ducey claims, just east of the Pavlak, and is getting some fine pannings.
